History of V Platinum Consulting

V Platinum Consulting was born in 2000 by founders Quang Vo and Lori Minor. The idea soon became a reality. After the first contract was signed and the first technologist placed to work, V Platinum Consulting was well on its way into the medical recruitment world headed by the leadership of Quang Vo and the determination of Lori Minor.

Approximately 18 months later in July of 2002, partner John Pham joined the company in its effort of expansion. Previously, John had done some consulting work for V Platinum, but now had his sights expanding on his role within the company in marketing and internal technology development.

Today, V Platinum Consulting continues its effort growing into a mainstream name in Allied while trying to develop other areas of medical staffing as well.
